

Sacramento Area Chapter Excellence in Chapter Collaboration

In the nursing profession, collaboration is a daily event and often goals cannot be achieved without it. Our most successful events often come from working with others. This year, the Sacramento Area Chapter (SAC AACN) collaborated with many different organizations to provide our members and community with opportunities we could not provide on our own. Working with pediatric nurses we put on our first-ever pediatric educational event. We collaborated with the SCCM Northern California Chapter to provide a combined chapter journal club featuring temperature management in critically ill patients. We found a new partner with the Walk for Apraxia foundation to provide hands-only CPR to the public at their event. We are looking forward to our new collaboration with Grand Canyon University and the opportunities it may provide. We took some risks, collaborated with new people and learned how to soar.
